

Copyright for videos

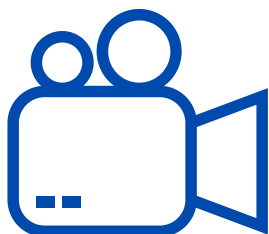

Music you can use:

- From the platform's built in library, such as the YouTube Audio Library.
- Songs a commercial licence has been purchased for (including Epidemic Sound).
- Songs from legally free websites, such as the 'Free music' section of Bensound.com; remember to use the provided attribution text.

Video footage or images you can use:

- You created yourself, including with an AI tool approved by your workplace, like MS Copilot.
- You've purchased a commercial licence for, such as from a stock photo site like Getty Images.
- Content licensed under a 'Creative Commons' licence that you've correctly attributed.

Don't use:

- Sounds, footage, or images that you didn't create or don't have licence to use, including content found on the internet.